

What's in Your Backyard

Provides the graphical representation and analysis of UK spatial data, allowing potential buyers to understand the environmental aspects of the area, thus helping them make informed decisions.

Situation

- Interactive maps which provide the graphical representation and analysis of UK spatial data. Some of the major data areas covered are farming, air pollution, aquifers, closed mining waste facilities, coastal erosion maps, bathing waters, drinking water protected areas, and flood and coastal erosion risk management activities
- Developed by: Environmental Agency
- Organisation type: Government
- Contact:

UK Environment Agency

National Customer Contact Centre

PO Box 544, Rotherham, S60 1BY

United Kingdom

Phone: 03708 506 506

Email: enquiries@environment-agency.gov.uk

UK

Environment

Challenge/Opportunity

- The tool allows real-estate professionals and potential buyers to understand the environmental aspects related to potential real estate deal and thus make informed decisions

Approach/Solution/Business model

- Paid
- mGovernment app
- Type: App based reuse

Open data used

- Multiple datasets from Environment Agency such as Ordnance Survey mapping data and Nitrate vulnerable zone data

Benefits

- Transparency
- Accessibility
- Awareness